Recruit Holdings invests in XICA Co., Ltd., a provider of statistical analysis tools that do not require specialized knowledge

Tokyo, Japan -- May 15, 2015 Recruit Holdings Co., Ltd. (Recruit; Headquarters: Chiyoda-ku, Tokyo; President and CEO: Masumi Minegishi) has invested in XICA Co., Ltd. (XICA; Headquarters: Chiyoda-ku, Tokyo; Representative Directors Yoshiaki Hirao and Yuji Yamada), which provides the statistical analysis web application and other services, through investment subsidiary RSP Fund No. 5, LLC.

Through this investment, Recruit, together with XICA, aims to popularize work support tools that enable statistical analysis without having advanced specialized knowledge in order to enhance business efficiency in companies, where data utilization is advancing in various fields. XICA is planning to use the funds raised to develop needs-specific statistical analysis applications such as "Rockhopper", a tool for corporate sales staff.

XICA is a corporation involved in developing and expanding "adelie," a statistical analysis tool. The main characteristic of adelic is that it allows for statistical analysis without having advanced specialized knowledge through functions such as an intuitive user interface, automated estimation of data correlation, and cloud sharing of analysis work and results. The strengths have been praised, and it has experienced a stable increase in users since its official release in October 2013.
